DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the nozzle grooves (9) having different thickness and widths must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification lack to describe two grooves having different thickness and widths.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 9 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "the foot part (8)" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 12 recites the limitations "a cartridge" and "a mixing nozzle" in lines 1 and 2 respectively. It appears these limitations are double inclusions of the "a cartridge" and "a mixing nozzle" recited in claim 1, lines 2 and 5 respectively.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-5, 11-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6,315,164 to Muhlbauer et al.

Muhlbauer shows a device for dispensing a mixed multi-components compound as seen in Fig. 1, having cartridges 5, plungers 11, a dynamic mixing nozzle 10, holders 6 and 7, parallel guides 8; The nozzle is removable and can be brought into a released and tight engagement with the container, see column 3, lines 57-61, and column 4, lines 33-49, the dynamic nozzle mixer shaft can be retracted to insert the nozzle transversely, see column 5, lines 32-34.

With respect to the intended use recitation of claim 1, it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 6-9, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,315,164 to Muhlbauer et al. in view of US 5,441,175 to Jacobsen et al.

Muhlbauer shows all claimed features as discussed above but is silent about having transverse limits stops and longitudinal movement of the nozzle. Jacobsen shows a dispensing for mixing multi-components as seen in Figs. 1, 3 and 12, having grooves 35 with transverse limit stop 77a for the nozzle and a front plate 28 that is adjustable longitudinally by supports 31 and 32. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Muhlbauer to include a transverse limits stops and longitudinal movement of the nozzle to center the nozzle on the dynamic nozzle drive shaft and to accommodate different size container in the dispenser as taught by Jacobsen.
